JOB WORK
CAREFULLY EXECUTED

VOLUME X. RICHMOND, MADISON COUNTY, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1897. NUMBER 37.

WARNING.

We wish to caution all users of Simmons Liver Regulator on a subject of the deepest interest and importance to their health—perhaps their lives. The sole proprietors and makers of Simmons Liver Regulator claim that customers are often deceived by buying and taking some medicine of a similar appearance or taste, believing it to be Simmons Liver Regulator. We warn you that unless you have gone over to the package or bottle, that it is not Simmons Liver Regulator. No one else makes, or ever has made Simmons Liver Regulator, or anything called Simmons Liver Regulator, but J. H. Zeilin & Co., and no medicine made by anyone else is the same. We alone can put it up, and we cannot be responsible, if other medicines represented as the same do not help you as you are led to expect they will. Bear this fact well in mind, if you have been in the habit of using a medicine which you supposed to be Simmons Liver Regulator, because the name was somewhat like it, and the package did not have the word Regulator on it, you have been imposed upon, and have not been taking Simmons Liver Regulator at all. The Regulator has been favorably known for many years, and all who use it know how necessary it is for Fever and Ague, Biliousness, Constipation, Headache, Dyspepsia, and all disorders arising from a diseased Liver.

We ask you to get for yourselves, and see that Simmons Liver Regulator, which you can readily distinguish by the Red Z on wrapper, and by our name, is the only medicine called Simmons Liver Regulator.

KELLER'S KENTUCKY KERNELS.

(Editorial in the Louisville Mercury compiled by the Louisville Courier-Journal for the edition of its readers.)

The Lexington Herald, of which DeLoe Breckinridge is Manager, rejects proposals made by Chairman Johnston for harmony in the Democratic party. As from and his side have gone over to the Republicans of course they will do all they can to destroy the Democratic party. The name of Breckinridge, which was once a pass word for Democracy, has become a blight on the fair name of old Kentucky.

A dispatch from New York January 22nd, says:

"Quick justice was done today to four men who attempted to rob a bank on Grand Street yesterday afternoon. In less than 24 hours from the time the crime was attempted they had all been caught, indicted and sentenced to imprisonment."

This shows how uneven things are in this world. People rob a bank and go to jail. Bank robbers the people and it's all right.

On our first page to-day will be found a synopsis of a speech by Henry Watterson, the editor of the Courier-Journal and the self-styled leader of the Democracy of Kentucky, before the New York Board of Trade. Mr. Watterson acknowledges his subservience to this kind of gangsters and robbers, and calls them the leaders of business and thought of the land. He pledges that where these plunderers lead he will follow, and takes upon himself the authority to say that the people will do likewise, which pledge Mr. Watterson to make. We shall wait to see if Mr. Watterson has a word to say in the next State Democratic Convention. We shall also see that he and his fellow doer, Simon Bolivar Buckner, are given an invitation to leave the convention if they dare enter Mr. Watterson may jolly the New York Board and have all the fun with them he can, but he is no longer a leader in Kentucky—except in the Republican ranks.

Twenty-eight links have fallen in the last fifteen days, suppose Mr. Bryan had been elected, he would have been mobbed by this time—Cynthia! Democracy!

Most of the links that have been closed were rotten concerns, conducted on non-banking principles—managed by speculating officers and led men generally. However, this does not disprove the Democratic statement. The panic is still with us to a great extent, and the Republican party is going to annihilate it by putting more taxes on the people.

The gold one is acknowledged to be a failure, and the efforts of Mr. McKinley to get up an international conference is being heated at by the Republican money grabbers and money devils of the East. We'll attend to the matter in 1900.

John Brown was frozen to death in Bell county—Exaggeration.

What a great claim that John Brown is. He was hung at Harper's Ferry, sent to jail in Ohio, froze to death in Bell county, travels for a Cincinnati grocery house, runs a barber shop in Carleville and carries on business in nearly every town in the United States. No wonder they sing "and his soul goes marching on."

Mr. Watterson in a column editorial in last Saturday's Courier-Journal says the Democrats can only have power and victory by standing upon the Indianapolis platform. Mr. Watterson does not seem to realize that he is no longer considered authority in the Democratic party. He may not believe this, but he will find it to be true in a year or so. He can defeat the Democrats of Kentucky but he can not lead them, and they have looked for no other contentment other than submit to the leadership of a leader.

Controller Eekels told the House Committee on Banking and Currency that the only remedy for existing financial trouble is a complete reorganization of the banking system—Lexington Times.

That is not what this d-d-n-g-n-u-m-p-b-l-e-t-e-r said when he was urging people to vote for McKinley. He said "confidence" was what was needed.

The Jefferson county grand jury adjourned yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock after returning 15 indictments against Alderman policemen, contractors and others, as indicted in the Courier-Journal yesterday. The most sensational part of the proceeding was the report of the grand jury. In the report it is estimated that lack of city alone prevented the falling of other indictments against Alderman.

That is not what this d-d-n-g-n-u-m-p-b-l-e-t-e-r said when he was urging people to vote for McKinley. He said "confidence" was what was needed.

This is the result of the C-J in turning the city over to the Republican party. Nineteen of the indicted parties are Republican officials that have been in power just one year.

A KID ACT.—Mr. John R. Bevers, an old Confederate, who formerly lived near Oxford, was found here in a bad condition, financially and physically. For several years he had lived in Indiana, but came back without means. A number of the old soldiers in town and county had him sent Lexington to be cared for—Georgetown Times.

The Times need not have headed the above item "a kid act," but should rather have said "duty done." It is the bones of the ex-confederates of Kentucky that they have not a comrade in an almshouse and very few in want any more. It is our duty to assist all of our unfortunate brothers.

It is said that to matter what the report of State Examiner Lester may be the Shiloh Fund Commissioners will not remove him. The political faction in the Republican party will also save him. No matter how inefficient he may be shown to be. But who will save the Phillips lot at 25.

If you and your old mother, the Courier-Journal, will do as you have at the last two elections you will do considerable toward saving it.

Hicks predicts that the worst winter weather will come in February and March, and that very deep snows will come in March, and measureless weather will prevail until after the full moon in April.

THE CUREBY SHALL BE.

The Lexington City Council favorably considered the Curfew law and it was referred to the police committee with power to act. The law makes it a penalty from $1 to $10 for children 15 years old and under to be on the streets without escort after 9 o'clock in the summer time and 8 in the winter.

LOOK OUT FOR THEM.

Newspaper "confidence men" who are more expert, men who use newspapers to fleece the credulous with "schemes" that are worded sharply, have taken the "bicycle" game. Police authorities in Cincinnati, Louisville and other large cities are after the "con" men these days but have been unable to catch them.

The advertisement states that upon cost of $25 and $5 per month until $50 is paid, a five bicycle will be shipped free of charges. When the "con" man gets the $2 that is generally the last that is heard of him. Several persons have bit on the game, and prospective buyers of bicycles would do well to fight "shy" of such games.

JACK CHICK WILL FIGHT FOR HIS FINE NOSE.

At the present writing neither the great horses or the lesser colts of the grand old Commonwealth is bothering the stand-out man from Harrodsburg. His mind is centered on fox hunting and fox hounds. To the Cincinnati Enquirer Jack lately said:

"I have 15 dogs in my pack," said the Colonel. "I will make a wager that if they were put up and fought right now they would bring me more than any 15 work horses in the State of Kentucky. I know it is true. A neighbor of mine told me of his dogs to Texas and sold all of them for more money than he could have got for work horses."

"I was offered a hundred dollars for one of my bunch. I have gathered my dogs from all parts of the world. What difference is it whether you import a dog, a cow or a dog? Ain't it right and sensible to import the animal that will bring you the most money?"

"No neighbor would think of setting out poisoned corn to kill a neighbor's horse or a cow, yet some neighbors are mean enough to set out poisoned meat for a dog. I had a talk with a man in Kentucky who told me he had a subject, I told him that if a neighbor of mine poisoned one of my dogs we would be neighbors no longer, and that I didn't intend to move in fact, had no intention of going away."

RELIGIOUS.

Northern Christian Advocate, commenting on the winning church, says: "The attractive church is not a worldly one. It is not a formal religious club. It is a spiritual church, a church thoroughly quickened by the life divine. A live church will draw. The multitude is burdened, depressed, in trouble, discouraged, a church full of love, hope, enthusiasm, energy will attract them. There is marvelous magnetism in intense spiritual earnestness. A wise and witty Scotch preacher is credited with saying: 'What troubles me is not so much the church as non-going church.' When the church is in motion, when it is earnest, alive, and full of the fire of the Holy Ghost, congregations will increase, the Sunday school will grow, and sinners will be won to Christ. Nothing is so winning as this."

At the sale of John I. Vanarsdale's live stock, Wednesday, good prices prevailed. Sixteen horses sold from $20 to $70; wagons brought $15 to $30; buggies $20 to $45; harness from $5 to $12.50. Everything considered, it was one of the best sales in a long while.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

A KID ACT.—Mr. John R. Bevers, an old Confederate, who formerly lived near Oxford, was found here in a bad condition, financially and physically. For several years he had lived in Indiana, but came back without means. A number of the old soldiers in town and county had him sent Lexington to be cared for—Georgetown Times.

JOHN R. PROCTOR, President of the Civil Service Commission, has notified the Collector at Louisville that all employees in the office except the Cashier and the Collector are under the protection of the Civil Service law.

The matter was brought up by an inquiry to find out whether Deputy Collectors are protected, and Mr. Proctor replied that they are included in the favor class.

This leaves very little patronage for the incoming Republican Collector to distribute among the hungry office-seekers.

With only four dissenting votes the Senate of the United States has gone on record as favoring an international bimetallic conference. The Republican party is apt to drift into unadvised bimetallic before the next campaign.

The Indianapolis convention stands alone in the demand for a "gold standard" and monetary measurements," as declared in their platform. The Republicans are on record as favoring what the Senate has declared "free coinage of silver by international agreement," while the Democracy still adheres to "free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the present ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation."

GENERAL JOE SHELLEY, born in 1813 at Lexington, Ky., died on Friday at Audrain, Mo. His remains were interred in Kansas City on Sunday. He was a Colonel of Confederate cavalry under General Price, at the beginning of the war but organized a regiment to which was joined the three Missouri regiments, the "Shelley's Brigade," which saw hard service in Arkansas, Missouri, Louisiana and Texas. He and 1,000 men espoused the cause of Maximilian, after the Civil War ended, and their services were as brilliant in the land of the Aztecs as they had been in his own country.

The trenchant style of Green R. Keller makes his paper a welcome visitor to every table in Kentucky. His blunt character, lofty integrity, knowledge of men, experience in public affairs, his courage, and his high standing in the community, give the Mercury a power possessed by few papers in the State. But it is right. Keller is a public spirited citizen, an unfettered thinker and actor, actuated by pure motives, and withal a Democrat in whom there is no guile. "As the most popular citizen in his section he can get anything he wants," said Capt. J. Speed, who succeeded him as clerk of the Kentucky House.

He lately skinned Henry Waterson in a paragraph republished in the first column on our first page to-day, and Old Henri fired a column broadside at the Blue Dick patriot but in which he said words of wisdom, entitled "Keller's Kentucky Kernels."

A CORRESPONDENT of the CLIMAX who is not an office seeker but is deeply interested in the success of the party which has demonstrated its ability to best administer the affairs of the government, county, State and National, writes earnestly to us to point out the evil is bound to result in.

"In my humble opinion," results which continued party strife says he, "there is a decided disposition on the part of the Republicans in this district to aggravate the strife and disaffection in Democratic ranks that they may succeed in electing Republican officers." Continuing our correspondent well counsels "harmony, so long as it can be achieved without surrendering a single iota of political conviction, in the order that we may be able to thwart the evil designs of the common foe."

If the mere spoils of office were the only incentive to harmony, little weight would this have with that large majority of voters, who neither seek office nor care who get it so long as it is executed by capable, honest men. But self-protection from incapable officials demands that our affairs should not be turned over to a party which has made such a signal failure in State affairs.

Take for instance, says the Louisville Post, the condition of the asylum at Hopkinsville, and the worse condition of the asylum at Lexington.

These institutions a year ago, were turned over to the Republicans. Governor Bradley believes that to the victor belong the spoils, and he turned these institutions over to the spoils hunters.

"Take the condition of the penitentiaries and the recent contract made for the chairs procured. Already the Sinking Fund Commissioners are being sued for not awarding the contract to the highest bidder.

Take the revenues of the State. They have been going from bad to worse, and they need the oversight of advanced and intelligent Democrats.

Consider the number of the turnpike riders, the numerous pardons, and the failure of justice. Instead of changing these things for the better, they have, by the success of the Republicans, been changed for the worse.

These are considerations which must appeal to all Democrats. The prosperity of the State is dear to us; its good name value, whether we are for gold or silver.

But instead of turning our faces to the past we turn to the future and seek to deal with the problems of to-day, not of yesterday.

Instead of cavilling at Clairman Johnson we welcome every indication of a recognition of a necessity for harmony. It must come if we are to have government and prosperity in Kentucky.

In the face of such necessities as these it seems to us foolish beyond expression to go back four years, two years, one year, to find something about which we may quarrel."

Accompanied by Mrs. E. Field Miller, Mrs. Wm. M. Irvine left last week for a visit to Huntsville, Ala., and Athens, Ga.

Saturday's Courier-Journal published pictures (2) of Misses Belle McDowell, Helen Bennett, Margaretta Smith and Sarah Shackelford.

Mr. Green Igo returned on Thursday to Laredo, Texas, where he is superintendent of one of the plantations of Mr. W. W. Watts, of this city.

Mr. J. Speed Smith, of Richmond, who was in this city Monday in Masonic interests, was entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Brooks.—Cynthiana Democrat.

Mrs. Jason Walker and Miss Cole, of Richmond, were present at the Woman's Club music department, having come down to hear Nordica.—Lexington Argonaut.

Mr. and Mrs. Lan Wilson gave a dance on Wednesday night last in honor of their guests, Miss Emma Henderson, of Ohio, and Miss Lona Rice, of Eastville county.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hume, Mrs. L. R. Blanton, Mrs. J. T. Shackelford, Misses Lucia and Sellie Burman attended the German Opera in Cincinnati this week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Corzilius, nee Miss Georgia Moberley, were welcomed back yesterday from their bridal tour through the South. They have elegant apartments at the Glyndon.

Dr. J. M. Foster entertained the Country Club last Thursday night at his Main street home. The intellectual feast was of a high order, but the supper which Mrs. Foster spread for the guests was even beyond it.

Mr. Kuper Hood, agent of the L. & N., in this city, and Miss Julia Hubbard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Hubbard, are to marry in Trinity church, Covington, this evening. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Chenuit, Jr., of this city, will be present at the marriage.

Friends here, among them Mrs. Elizabeth Miller and Mrs. Stanton B. Hammett, were invited to the marriage of Mrs. Minnie Heth Vail to Mr. Charles Latham Lawton, at Omaha, on February 9th. The bride has visited here and is pleasantly remembered.

The following, among the many local attendants upon Nordica's concert in Lexington, Saturday, spent the day with friends: Misses Lila and Kit Chenuit, Katie and Mattie Smith, at this time, Preston Easton; Miss Annie Bennett, with Miss Grace Pearson; Miss Sarah Shackelford, with Miss Katie Clay.

A dozen or so ladies were never more charmingly entertained than on Thursday last when Mrs. D. B. Shackelford entertained congenial set. Course after course of dainties were heaped upon them, from the speckled guinea to the wild-eyed sea fish, with wines, hot and cold drinks, and all fashionable condiments.

At a swell social function here last week a new wrinkle was introduced which did not work. After the "steenth" course there came a laced napkin, which an iconoclast of custom and a connoisseur of table manners seized to introduce the latest napkin fad. "Just throw your napkin under the table" said she, and several worshippers at the shrine of fickle fashion followed suit. Presently in came the waiters with another course or so, and the discontinuance of the quartette was amusing. "Those dainties are sticky," was all that broke the deadly stillness.

"Nordica," "Nordica," was all one could hear on the streets last week, and when on Saturday over one hundred of our citizens boarded the train for Lexington it was apparent that the famous prima donna was almost as great a drawing card to the music lovers of Richmond as Bryan was last fall to the advocates of the white metal. The descriptions of the scene in the Lexington Opera House, to which the CLIMAX listened for the next 24 hours, turned us green with envy and regret that we had gone that day to a dime museum in Cincinnati in preference to listening to the grandest, grandest and radiantly Lillian Nordica. But our degeneracy is punished sufficiently and we promise hereafter the mite of patronage that can bring so much general pleasure. The Lexington Leader lady reporter interviewed Nordica in her dressing room during the intermission and found her most gracious and charming, expressing herself as greatly pleased with her reception in Lexington.

Miss Minnie Bohon, of Harrodsburg, well known in Richmond, is to be married to Mr. J. H. Itaine, in the former's home city on March 17th. The groom is said to be a prominent citizen of Atlanta, in a fine position to properly care for this, one of the most popular and lovable young ladies in Central Kentucky, who has been the pride of a doting father, Mr. George Bohon, a wealthy merchant of Harrodsburg. An amusing incident occurred to us four years ago soon after Misses Bohon and Wheatley visited this city. "We were enroute to Harrodsburg to visit Chas. Dedman, a cousin, and spied a bevy of beautiful young ladies surrounded by several Merger families. Their faces looked quite familiar. We really having met them in Richmond, as subsequently developed—and we approached one of the young (2) men and asked what that beautiful young lady's name was. Said he, "That is Miss Minnie Bohon, who lives in Harrodsburg." In a few minutes this same young man stood over and kissed the lady, and imagine our surprise when we heard her say "Good bye, papa." It was none other than her father, Col. George Bohon, one of the most youthful and handsomest men of his age who have ever met.

MARRIED.

McKENNEY-HAMMOND.—On Tuesday, Feb. 9, at the residence of Mrs. Margaret Argo, of Paint Lick, Miss Sallie Hammond and Mr. C. O. McKinney, son of G. W. McKinney, were married.

POLITICAL EDITORIALS.

[From The Jessamine Journal.]

It is folly to bring national questions into local politics. Just as well ask a man how he stands on the Cuban question as the money question in a county race.

It is a mighty poor Democrat who does not want to see harmony prevail within the ranks. And yet the best way in the world to cause defeat in a national question is to let local races. The party that does this is the one that will be defeated.

CORRESPONDENCE.

BEREA.

Prof. L. V. Dodge is recovering from a severe attack of lagrippe.

Mr. Green Clay, of Richmond, spent several days in Berea with his brother, Prof. Clay Herlick.

Mr. J. B. Oldham, of Xenia, Ohio, is visiting in Berea, on his way to the Chattanooga Theological Seminary.

Miss Helen C. Putnam, of Berea College, is visiting in Pleasant Plains, Ill., the guest of Miss Esie Coyle, a former student.

The reception held at the home of Prof. L. V. Dodge last Friday evening in honor of Prof. Geo. E. Little, of Washington, D. C., was a most enjoyable occasion.

Miss Katie E. Putnam's shadow pantomime entertainment for her school classes, which occurred Friday evening in the east parlor of Ladies' Hall, was an exceedingly successful one. The songs rendered by Little Misses Louise Youn and Ruth Putnam "brought down the house."

The well known evangelist, Rev. E. P. Hammond, of Hartford, Conn., began a series of revivals at the College Chapel on Wednesday, the 10th of February. Mr. Hammond is well and widely known as the author of a number of helpful books.

The privilege of listening to this gifted evangelist, is one that is seldom accorded to any but the larger towns and cities.

Prof. G. C. Little, of Washington, D. C., has been debating Boreas and since the second of February by his marvelous skill. His visit has proved of great educational value. His lectures, or "chalk talks" were of such a nature that not alone were the students delighted, but children came flocking to hear him and all were benefited. His fame as a chalk artist is great, but he is known to every one who has seen him in his educational work along various lines.

John T. Woolley, the famous Prohibition lecturer, delivered a brilliant address at the College Chapel last Saturday evening, February 6th, delighting a crowded and highly appreciative house. His easy, witty, sparkling, conversational style captivated and held the closest attention, and frequent and hearty bursts of applause testified to the high appreciation of the audience.

It was a rare occasion, and Boreas is to be congratulated. Mr. Woolley left at the midnight train for another appointment.

EDENTON.

The Acre Bros. have concluded to tend the old farm together.

The boys of this place went upon the creek and had a fine fox race.

Dr. Guy Fairfax is reported to be married at Lexington, Ky., February 17th.

Mrs. Janie Master is slowly recovering from her fall which broke her collar bone.

Mr. James Smith is improving his farm by running a nice fence along the road.

Messrs. Joseph Davis and Joseph Hume are prizing their tobacco together to sell.

Mr. Harve A. Wylie is progressing rapidly on his new building, considering the bad weather.

Elvira Vincent is down with pneumonia and recovery is doubtful. Dr. Price is the attending physician.

NEWBY.

The mud roads are almost past traveling. The mud is knee deep.

Mr. John Agee, Jr., of Shirley, Ill., is visiting his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Agee, Sr.

Mr. Calaway, of Taint Lick, was in our locality buying tobacco last week, paying from $3 to $4.25 per hundred pounds.

Mrs. Lucy Roberts, widow of James Roberts, fell out of her chair into the fire and was burned to death February 10th inst. She was in feeble health. Aged about 70 years.

Mr. Allen J. Tudor, of Millon, will move with his family to the State of Illinois in a few days. Messrs. Joseph Jones, Lawrence Tudor and Sydney Lowry will go with them.

WINSTON.

Mrs. Sally Fain is out after several weeks illness.

Miss Eva Toomy, of Richmond, is visiting her Eastill friends this week.

Mrs. W. H. Azbill has been confined to her home with lagrippe for some time.

Elder D. G. Combs closed a two weeks meeting at Sand Hill with 21 additions to the church.

Mrs. Martia Richardson, who has been confined to her bed with fever, is not expected to recover.

Warren McGowan and Miss Maggie Riddell will be married today, Wednesday. Both are prominent people.

James M. Clowers will move with his family to Richmond, after living in Eastill county for many years. Madison's gain is Eastill's loss.

Elder John Newman, who has been preaching for the Christian church in this place for several years, is talking of moving to Jessamine county. We hope Brother Newman will never leave Eastill.

VALLEY VIEW.

Our druggist, H. A. Phillips, spent Sunday in Lexington.

The Southern Lumber Co. started one of their mills last week.

Mrs. Susan McGuire visited relatives at Clay's Ferry last week.

Born to the wife of Jesse Kelly the 10th inst., a two pound boy.

Handling, wide-awake I. M. Asher was in Louisville several days last week on business.

A few rails of timber passed here on the last rise of High Bridge and other points along the Kentucky river.

H. C. Fowler and step mother have purchased a farm of Matt Brumfield, at Logans, and will move there about the first of March.

Capt. P. M. Sparlock, of Ford, is visiting his daughters, Mrs. G. A. Boy and Mrs. F. M. Bryson, and sons, T. B. and William Sparlock.

Herbert Poston, who was formerly lost here, was here last week. He is on the road representing a wholesale clothing firm.

Rev. H. B. Cockerham, a student of the Theological Seminary at Louisville, preached here last Sunday at 11 a. m. and in the evening. He will preach every Sunday from now until fall.

Dr. H. A. Phillips is quite a ladies man and is terrible on the fall. He fell in two his night recently and he has been looking quite and of late. He went to Lexington Saturday on business. (?)

D. L. Walker, of the firm of Walker & White, led dealers of Manchester, was here last week delivering logs to the Southern Lumber Co. They received about 10,000 on the recent rise in the river.

Dr. and Mrs. Northcutt entertained a few friends last Tuesday night in honor of Miss Mattie Holman, of Newby, and May Allaway, of Nicholasville. Others who graced the occasion in their angelic presence were Misses Mattie Taylor, Mollie and Mattie Howe, of Valley View, and Fannie Holman, of Lexington.

W. D. Sanders is a candidate for jailer, subject to the wishes of the bosses of the Madison county C. O. P. He's a mighty good man but a worse Republican. We wish him success in his fight, and extend him sympathy in the final contest, where he will find a "Cobb" loaded with "Colones" that will cause him to exclaim after the smoke of battle has cleared away "where am I at?"

On and after March 4th, the following will pass current here—at least some hereabout said there was enough money and all that was needed was confidence in the money and business would revive at once. On demand Republican Protective Tariff promise to pay Suffering Humanity the full amount of Prosperity for promiss made in the year 1896.

McKinley Confidence, Sincerely, JAY ELLIOTT.
